What is the connection between harmful radiation and negative emotions?

Radiation

Harmful radiation from the TEPCO power plant meltdown in Fukushima is in the water across the planet. Dr. Masaru Emoto had considered a relationship between radioactivity and the emotion of Hatred and Grudge. This experiment investigates the relationship with 20 emotions and treatments of radioactivity.

Radionics

Radionics was used to measure radioactivity and 20 emotions in water across the planet. Then positive symbol energy was broadcast and the emotions were again measured.

For broadcast, placed on the witness plate are:

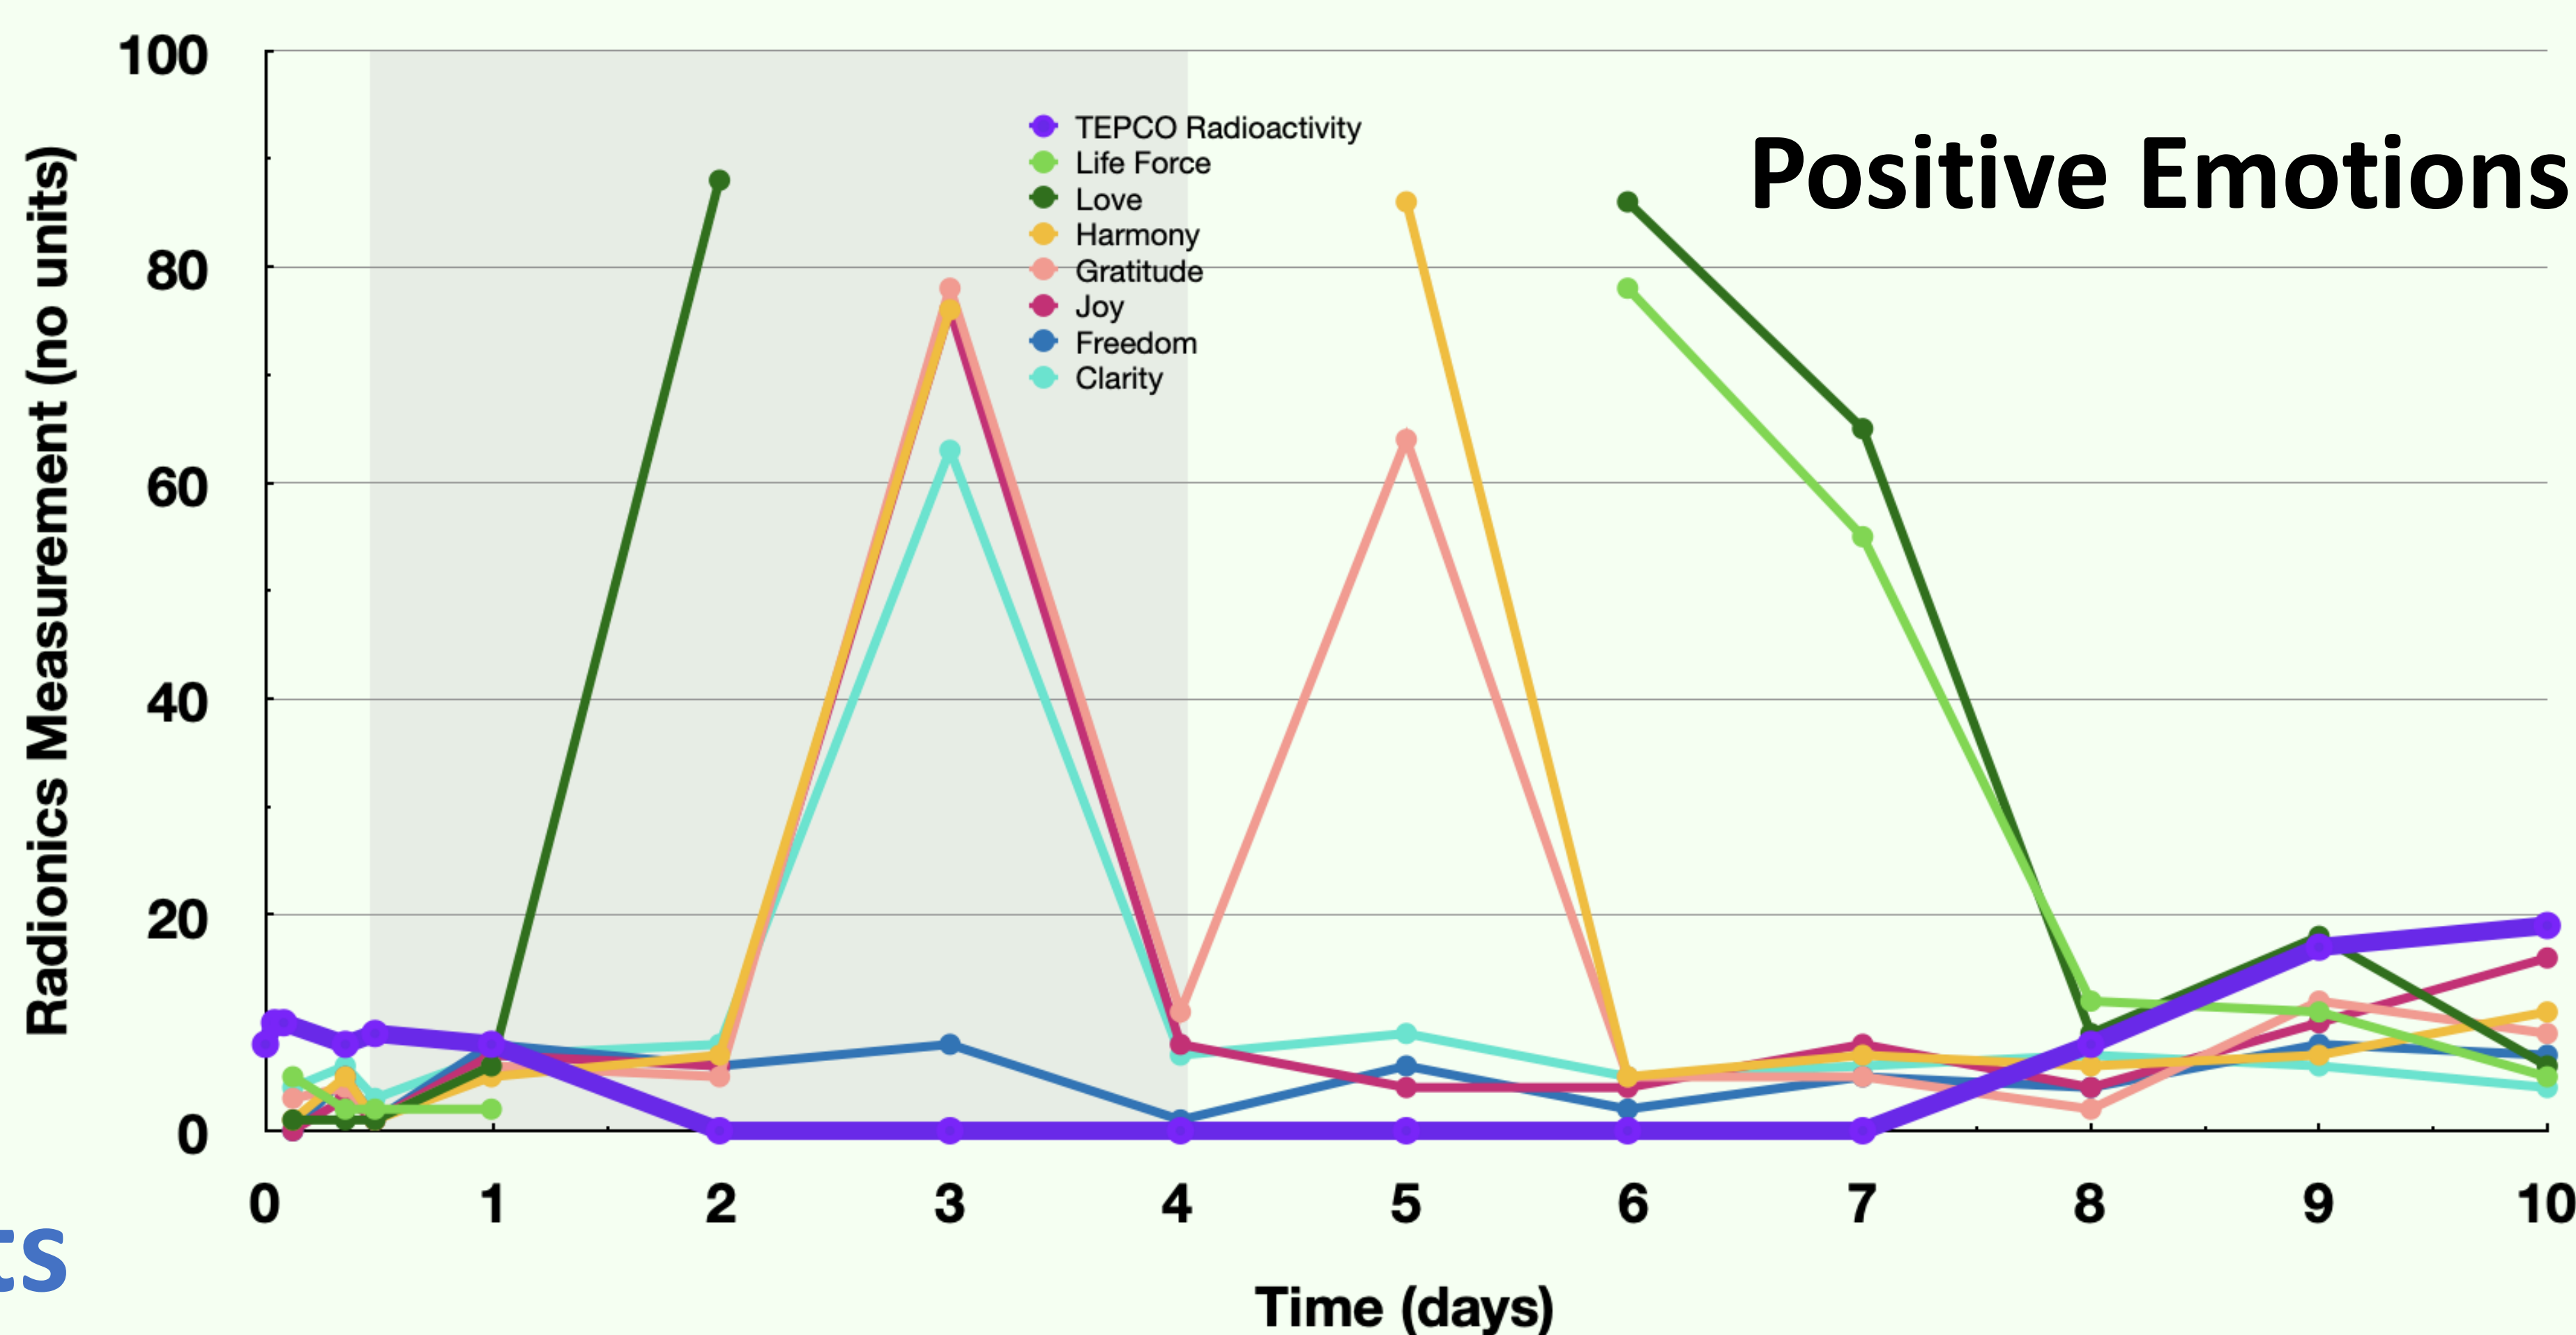

- A 3x5 card with "Earth" written on it,
- A page with Light Language symbols for "Source Love"
- A dodecahedron made with pipe cleaners and straws, which contains a tektite hanging in the middle, that is energetically imprinted with the Light Language.

Source Love symbols

Broadcast Source Love symbols from 0.5 days to 4 days
No broadcast from 4 days to 10 days

The heavy purple line is TEPCO Radioactivity and is the same data in both graphs for reference

Some numbers go beyond 100, up to thousands of digits

Results

The radioactivity and negative emotions all go to zero after 3.5 days of sending Source Love symbols.

The positive emotions increase.

After treatment with Source Love symbols is stopped at day 4, the radioactivity and negative emotions increase again, and the positive emotions decrease.

Future measurements will be made to see whether the cycle will repeat with various positive treatments other than the Source Love symbols.
